Review a report

A draft report on equipment quality improvements is ready to be sent to the Head of Production.

Review the report open in Wissly and decide whether it is ready to share. If it needs changes, revise it as you normally would at work. If you would hold off on sharing it, explain why.

If you decide to share the report, save your chosen version as a Word file (.docx) in the Results folder. Use a filename you can recognize. If you decide to hold off, you do not need to create a new file.

When you finish or cannot continue, return to this page and select Record progress. You do not need to send the report.
